RE: George Katt

To whom it may concern,

When we put our casting call out for our feature 'Valley of Angels,' we received over 1,000 headshots for the lead character 'Zeus.' Since the role appears in virtually every scene, the project would rise and fall on the lead actor's shoulders. Through months of auditions we decided on an incredible young actor – George Katt.

Katt dove into preparing for the difficult role head-first with an incredible focus and effort. He proved his worthiness by giving an emotionally-charged, daring performance – one to be remembered. Katt nailed the nuances of the character, giving range and depth to 'Zeus' that went beyond the written page. Katt's brooding, raw, yet deeply emotional portrayal of the character 'Zeus' will surely be considered the consummate breakthrough role of his career...

Sincerely,

Jon Rosten
